Thank you,

I did receive my unit today and I am very happy with your company. I want to commend on your excellent customer service. Once I show all my friend this wonderful device I am sure they will want one too, and I will direct them towards your company. Heck in the future I have kicked around the idea of starting up a store that would sell such devices as this. Call it maybe something like the mind shop or something. Could market it as a stress reduction shop.

You have definilty shown me that you have excellent customer service and I would have you as one of my main suppliers.
Thank you very much..
